

Uncovering Incidents: A Journal on Hunting for Justice in Atlanta's Attorney Competition and Unions

Del Rhett

Abstract—This journal article aims to provide an in-depth exploration into the incidents that have occurred within the Atlanta attorney competition and unions. In particular, the focus will be on uncovering the injustices that have taken place and examining the ways in which these incidents can be addressed. Through a combination of qualitative research methods, including interviews and case studies, this study will investigate the various factors that contribute to these incidents, such as power dynamics, discrimination, and unethical behavior. Additionally, the article will also explore the role of different stakeholders, including attorneys, law firms, and unions, in perpetuating or remedying these incidents. Ultimately, the goal of this journal article is to shed light on the systemic issues that exist within the legal profession in Atlanta and to provide recommendations for how these issues can be addressed in order to promote justice and fairness for all those involved.
